- 11. Contracts, agreements, or papers affiliated with any medical professional services, referrals, or records storage for Dr. Singh.
- 12. Contracts, agreements, or paper affiliated with any outside medical insurance billing company for Dr. Singh.
- 13. For any computer or storage medium whose seizure is otherwise authorized by this warrant, and any computer or storage medium that contains or in which is stored records or information that is otherwise called for by this warrant (hereinafter, "COMPUTER"):
 - a) evidence of who used, owned, or controlled the COMPUTER at the time the things described in this warrant were created, edited, or deleted, such as logs, registry entries, configuration files, saved usernames and passwords, documents, browsing history, user profiles, email, email contacts, "chat," instant messaging logs, photographs, and correspondence;
 - b) evidence of software that would allow others to control the COMPUTER, such as viruses, Trojan horses, and other forms of malicious software, as well as evidence of the presence or absence of security software designed to detect malicious software;
 - c) evidence of the lack of such malicious software;
 - d) evidence indicating how and when the computer was accessed or used to determine the chronological context of computer access, use, and events relating to crime under investigation and to the computer user;
 - e) evidence indicating the computer user's state of mind as it relates to the crime under investigation;
 - f) evidence of the attachment to the COMPUTER of other storage devices or similar containers for electronic evidence;
 - g) evidence of counter-forensic programs (and associated data) that are designed to eliminate data from the COMPUTER;
 - h) evidence of the times the COMPUTER was used:

- i) passwords, encryption keys, and other access devices that may be necessary to access the COMPUTER;

- m) contextual information necessary to understand the evidence described in this attachment.

As used above, the terms "records" and "information" includes all forms of creation or storage, including any form of computer or electronic storage (such as hard disks or other media that can store data); any handmade form (such as writing); any mechanical form (such as printing or typing); and any photographic form (such as microfilm, microfiche, prints, slides, negatives, videotapes, motion pictures, or photocopies).

The term "computer" includes all types of electronic, magnetic, optical, electrochemical, or other high speed data processing devices performing logical, arithmetic, or storage functions, including desktop computers, notebook computers, mobile phones, tablets, smartphones, server computers, and network hardware.

The term "storage medium" includes any physical object upon which computer data can be recorded. Examples include hard disks, RAM, floppy disks, flash memory, CD-ROMs, and other magnetic or optical media.

The computer expert will attempt to create an electronic "image" of those parts of the computer that are likely to store the computer files described in the warrant. Generally speaking, imaging is the taking of a complete electronic picture of the computer's data, including all hidden sectors and deleted files. Imaging a computer permits the agents to obtain an exact copy of the computer's stored data without actually seizing the computer hardware. The computer expert or another technical expert will then conduct an off-site search for the computer files described in the warrant from the "mirror image" copy at a later date. If the computer expert successfully images the computers, the agents will not conduct additional search or seizure of the computers.

If "imaging" proves impractical, or even impossible for technical reasons, then the agents will seize those components of the computer system that the computer expert believes must be seized to permit the agents to locate the computer files described in the warrant at an off-site location. The components will be seized and taken into custody. If Dr. Singh so requests, the computer expert will, to the extent practicable, attempt to provide her with copies of any files not within the scope of the warrant that may be necessary or important to the continuing function of Dr. Singh's legitimate business. If, after inspecting the computers, the analyst determines that some or all of this equipment is no longer necessary to retrieve and preserve the evidence, the Government will return it within a reasonable time.

Any authorized law enforcement officer executing this warrant may, at his sole discretion, if necessary, employ or utilize the services of an outside computer expert in order to operate the system and/or retrieve and/or secure any information contained in an electronic device provided such outside expert operates under the supervision, direction and control of an authorized law enforcement officer.
